Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K is a safe and fun place for young people from all different kinds of backgrounds. This permission slip includes a description of the C4K Clubhouse and how we use member information and artifacts created in our studio.

Description of the Program:

Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K located at 945 Second Street SE, Charlottesville, VA 22902, enables young people to work with adult mentors to explore their own interests, develop skills, and build confidence in themselves through the use of technology. At Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K, young people can design their own music, art, videos, animations, robots, science simulations, and much more. Under the supervision of the C4K Clubhouse Coordinator, members have access to the Internet and the opportunity to post their own original work on the Internet.

What Information We Collect:

Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K will collect the demographic information included in this application as registration information for the program. When young people participate in the program, they sign into the C4K Clubhouse time tracking application so we know how many young people attended and how often. Members in the Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K will have the ability to create materials that will be posted to a Computer Clubhouse Intranet website, called "The Computer Clubhouse Village." These materials may contain personal information including, but not limited to, first name, e-mail address, and photograph. "The Computer Clubhouse Village" is password protected, meaning only Computer Clubhouse participants and staff have passwords and can look at the site. Also, under the supervision of the C4K Clubhouse Coordinator, participants in the program may be invited to post content to the Internet. The Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K staff educates young people about safe behaviors on the Internet. Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K discourages members from posting personal information on the Internet, but does not control all such content. It is necessary for each child's parents to instruct their child on the dangers of posting personal information on the Internet. To read the Village Privacy Policy please visit: <http://village.computerclubhouse.org>

How We Use the Information:

Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K uses the information collected to create a list of members in the Program, how often they participate, and to allow participants to share the materials they create. The Computer Clubhouse will not transfer or sell this information to any third party. Computers4Kids & Computer Clubhouse @ C4K will provide reasonable security for this information and will allow you the opportunity to review this information by contacting the C4K Clubhouse Coordinator.
